

Bell Told to Reduce Long Distance Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission ordered Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. today to reduce its rates on long distance calls within the state, effective May 26.

The PSC estimated the annual savings to telephone users at $500,000.

Charges for long distance calls outside Arkansas are not affected by the order.

Bell simultaneously announced that it would initiate a new "family night calling plan" for intrastate customers on May 26. The plan will permit a long-distance call between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. between any two Arkansas points for a maximum of 50 cents for the first three minutes.

The present highest station-to-station rate for a three-minute night call in Arkansas is $1.

Warren E. Bray, general manager of Southwestern Bell, said rates on other long distance calls will be reduced up to 25 cents.

The PSC said the rate reduction order came as a result of accounting changes recently agreed upon by the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, the Federal Communications Commission and the Bell System.

Lewis M. Robinson, PSC chairman, explained that some Bell investment and expenses applicable to intrastate long-distance operation in the past will be charged to interstate long-distance operation in the future.

Telephone rates are computed according to the amount of investment and expense allocated to a particular service.

Bray said the new family plan was being installed "with the intent of making the benefit of long-distance calling available to more people as well as to spread the evening and night calling volumes over a longer period of time."

The telephone company at present has a lower rate for calls after 6 p.m. on weekdays and all day Sunday.

Tank Blast at Houston Shoots Flames

By BOB M. GASSAWAY
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Flames shot 10 stories high today from a petroleum storage tank that exploded as escaping fumes floated across a highway.

Four persons suffered severe burns as the blaze erupted shortly before midnight. A woman living nearby suffered a heart attack.

A passing car apparently touched off the blast at a Sinclair Refining Co. tank farm on the Houston ship channel. The flames were visible in downtown Houston, 20 miles distant.

Houston Fire Chief C. M. Bullock had conflicting reports on whether the 85,000-gallon tank contained gasoline or diesel fuel. It was three-fourths full.

A Sinclair worker said the tank would be allowed to burn out "because it might explode if we try to put it out and it cools too quickly."

About 150 firemen from Houston and nearby communities fought the blaze. Police asked residents of a nearby subdivision to leave so rooftops could be soaked.

Injured were James E. Shepard, 43, of Houston, a worker at the tank farm; James Duke, 25, and Judy Taylor, 21, both of Pasadena, a Houston suburb, and Allen Buchneck, 21, of Genoa, Tex.

The woman who suffered a heart attack was Mrs. Ledith Miller, 45, of Houston. Three firemen were overcome by smoke.

Car Hits Bridge, Goes Into Ditch

Yesterday on Highway 29 South of Hope, a car driven by David C. Mullins, Hope, went out of control, hit a bridge, careened off and down an embankment and into a ditch.

State Policeman Travis Ward said Mullins escaped serious injury but the auto was badly damaged. He charged Mullins with driving while intoxicated.

Florida Case to Resume

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The multi-million dollar income tax trial of Andrew and George Florida of Osceola was scheduled to resume in U.S. District Court here today.

The trial was recessed two weeks ago at the request of attorneys for the Floridas.

Memphis accountant Cecil Jones was expected to take the witness stand today to introduce exhibits showing the result of his audit of the Arkansas corporations.

The government contends the Floridas owe $9.5 million in taxes, penalties and interest for the years 1951-54.

The defense maintains the government is attempting to collect taxes on some expenditures for business purposes.

Ranger 4 to Hit the Moon Thurs. a. m.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—As the sun rises Thursday on the desolation of the lunar landscape, U.S. spacecraft Ranger 4 is expected to plunge from the black sky onto the surface of the moon.

Scientists say it will strike the unseen back side of the moon at 8:50 a.m. EST, exactly 63.913 hours after it blasted off from Cape Canaveral—carrying elaborate television equipment and the hopes of United States lunar experts for a close-up look at the moon.

The hopes were shattered when a timer failed and halted a sequence of maneuvers which would have brought Ranger's television eye into play as it neared the lunar surface.

But Ranger, as blind as a plunging meteor, hurtled on toward what would be a historic collision. If it strikes as expected, Ranger will be the first piece of U.S. hardware on the moon. The Russians hit it in 1959.

A tiny radio is sending out steady beeps by which scientists from Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory are tracking Ranger's flight. When the beeps stop, they will know it has hit.

Firm Stopped From Making Safety Device

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federal Judge J. Smith Henley enjoined a Little Rock firm Tuesday from making a safety device and expressed concern over the amount of profit possibly involved in sale of the product to the Air Force.

The temporary injunction was issued by Henley against the Crane-Boom Guard Co., Inc., after Saf-T-Boom Corp., also of Little Rock, claimed an infringement of patents.

Both firms manufacture an insulated framework which fits around the end of construction crane booms to keep them from touching electrical wires.

Crane-Boom attorney Shelby R. Blackmon told Henley his firm has prospects of selling 1,040 of the guards to the Air Force. He said the devices sell for $375.

Henley asked how much net profit was made on the guards and Blackmon replied, "It costs $120 on a contract to make the unit."

"Wasn't there something in the newspapers recently to the extent that somebody was objecting to Western Electric's making 13 per cent on a military contract," Henley said, "And you're making these things for $120 and selling them for $375?"

The attorney for Saf-T-Boom, E. M. Arnold, said his firm's product sold for $575, but maintained the profit figure was not the amount expressed by Blackmon.

Saturn Dumps Tons of Water in Atmosphere

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The great Saturn booster was launched successfully for the second time today and was deliberately blown up after the trial to dump 95 tons of cloud-forming water into the upper atmosphere.

With a tremendous roar and spurt of flame, the world's mightiest known rocket rode 1.3 million pounds of thrust to an altitude of 65 miles. There a signal from the ground detonated dynamite charges which ripped the vehicle apart, spilling the water into the near-vacuum of space in a bonus experiment.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced several minutes after the 9 a.m. launching that the flight was completely successful.

Observers saw the water quickly form a huge cloud of snow-like ice particles which spread several hundred feet across a clear sky.

The great mass—higher than any natural cloud has flown—remained seemingly motionless in the air for only a few seconds, then spread apart and quickly vanished.

As on the first flight of the Saturn last October, only the first-stage performance was being checked. And again it was a remarkable performance by what is believed to be the largest and most complex rocket in the world—a forerunner of a rocket designed to carry American astronauts to the moon later in this decade.

By the time the explosive charge was ignited 160 seconds after launching, the 162-foot Saturn had completed its main mission—a check-out on the booster itself.

The eight powerful engines in the first stage functioned for about 115 seconds, pushing the 463-ton vehicle to an altitude of 35 miles. The engines, then, shut off as planned and the rocket coasted up to the point of explosion—which occurred some 50 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral over the Atlantic.

Two dummy upper stages were filled with water to simulate the weight of the upper assembly to be carried on future Saturns.

It was this 23,000 gallons of water which was spilled into the icy ionosphere in a secondary scientific experiment dubbed "Project Highwater."

By tracking the cloud and recording its action scientists hoped to gain further knowledge of the upper atmosphere.

Officials were jubilant. Two straight successes in the program have given added impetus to America's plan to race the Soviet Union to the moon.

Richard Canfield, Saturn project officer, reported the good shots show that a vehicle such as Saturn certainly is feasible.

Canfield said primary purposes of the flight were to evaluate propulsion, aerodynamic characteristics, guidance and other systems in the first stage.

He said only minor changes have been made as a result of the highly successful maiden flight last Oct. 27.

Leaders Open Fire Again on Rights Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan group in the Senate takes another stab today at launching a civil rights bill into the election-year political spectrum.

Losers in an abortive attempt Tuesday to get a literacy test measure off the round, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana rallied supporters for another try.

But his effort seemed likely to result only in the blast-off of a Southern filibuster. It could drone on for 10 days or more before Mansfield and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois reach for a seldom-reliable valve to shut off debate.

The cut-off could come only if two-thirds of senators voting approve a debate limitation. This device has never worked when a civil rights bill was up.

Led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the Senate's top tactician, Southern opponents forced a postponement Tuesday by the simple expedient of demanding that a quorum be present. Mansfield was trying to get discussion going on a bill which would exempt voters in federal elections who have completed a sixth-grade education from taking literacy tests in 21 states which have such requirements.

When only 35 of the 100 senators could be rounded up to answer to their names, Mansfield abruptly adjourned the Senate. It is supposed to have 51 on hand, a bare majority, to do business.

The Democratic leader lost a day but no ground in trying for action on a measure Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and other sponsors claim would go a long way toward preventing discrimination against Negro voters.

The Senate still had before it a House-passed bill to which Mansfield hopes to attach the literacy measure. The bill in question would free James M. Norman of Memphis, Tex., from repaying $2,001.48 in federal crop insurance paid him by the government's mistake.

U.S. Fires First of Series of Nuclear Tests in the Pacific

'Friends' of U. S. Set Up Protests

TOKYO (AP)—Denouncing the U.S. decision to resume nuclear tests, 100 left-wing students tried to storm the American Embassy today, but 200 police stopped them 50 yards short of the gate.

One plainclothesman was cut about the face in the brief, fierce battle that left the street littered with banners, shoes and other belongings of the students.

The demonstration was led by Japan's Zengakuren Student Federation, which has vowed to demonstrate at the embassy every day the United States carries on nuclear tests in the central Pacific.

After the police repulsed them, the students marched to Tokyo's Shinjuku railway station, sang the Communist Internationale and staged a brief sitdown strike.

The U.S. test decision prompted other protests from various groups in Japan.

The government issued a mild statement.

"For world peace and welfare, Japan is opposed to any kind of nuclear testing by any country," said Masayoshi Ohira, Cabinet secretary.

In Madras, Indian elder statesman C. Rajagopalachari called on Prime Minister Nehru to send a warship to the Christmas Island area in an attempt to stop the U.S. tests.

Earl Bertrand Russell, British philosopher and pacifist, urged last week that India and seven other nonaligned nations send ships to the test area.

Nehru indicated in Parliament he didn't think much of Russell's plan, but called on both the United States and the Soviet Union to refrain from tests—at least until the 17-nation disarmament talks are completed at Geneva.

U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant also urged the atomic powers to refrain from further nuclear weapon explosions.

Thant, speaking at a New York luncheon, recalled that the U.N. General Assembly last fall had called for an end to nuclear tests.

Both the United States and Soviet Union told the assembly at the time they would not be bound by the resolution.

The London Daily Mail noted that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's arrival in the United States would probably coincide with the start of the new U.S. tests. "Many would see in such a melancholy coincidence a black omen for the future," the paper said.

Rockefeller Tour for GOP Cause

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The hope of Arkansas Republicans was flying today, and Gov. Orval E. Fabius has given his okay.

Winthrop Rockefeller completed four days of his airplane tour of the state Monday.

His flying tour carries him to Fayetteville and Searcy today.

Rockefeller stirred Republican hopes earlier this month when he said he was thinking of running for governor. Shortly afterwards he went on a statewide television network and removed his name from speculation about the governor's race.

Rockefeller said then he believed he could do more for Republicans in Arkansas as a worker—not as a candidate.

Thinks Steel Prices Must Be Boosted

CHICAGO (AP)—The board chairman of Inland Steel Co. said today that the relations between steel costs and prices eventually will have to be corrected and only time will determine whether increased productivity will justify the present hold-the-line price policy.

Joseph L. Block, whose firm was the first to talk publicly at the since-rescinded price boost announced by several other producers, said earnings on invested capital in the steel industry do not compare favorably with those in manufacturing industries.

He told stockholders in a quarterly report that although the rate of increase in employment costs was relatively lower in the last steel wage agreement, the increased union benefits amounted to 10 cents an hour or 2.5 per cent of employment costs.

Improved earnings are essential for modernization of facilities as well as to attract new capital, Block said. Whether the cost increase can be offset by productivity improvement "is problematical and cannot be determined until we have had experience," he said.

In deciding not to boost steel prices, Block said, it was the company's "considered judgment" that a price change at this time would not be in the national interest, or recognize competitive factors and therefore, would not be in the interest of our stockholders, employees, and customers.

The company reported first-quarter earnings of $16,639,062 or 94 cents a share. This compared with $18,143,592 or 46 cents in first quarter 1961 but 11 per cent less than record first quarter earnings of $18,743,334 or $1.07 a share in 1960.

Arkansas cities and confer with Republican leaders at each airport.

Gov. Fabius said today that is "okay" with him.

"The Republicans have a right to beat the drums if they want to," the governor said, "but I don't think they will have much success with airport meetings."

Fabius declined to comment any further.

Rockefeller is urging Republicans to seek public office. He will address the White County Republicans tonight, and will meet with Pulaski County Republicans
Thursday evening.

Communist Fails to Show for Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Elizabeth
Gurley Flynn failed to show up at her passport revocation hearing at the State Department today but officials said this makes no difference.

The hearing went ahead anyway with lawyer Joseph Forer representing Mrs. Flynn, identified by the Justice Department as national chairman of the Communist party in this country.

The hearing is the first under new regulations denying passports to Communists.

It also will be the first test of the controversial rule that the person whose passport is in question may see all the evidence used against him.

When the regulations were established critics singled out this provision, saying that it eliminated any possible use of classified FBI information in the hearings and thus would make it difficult to establish that some persons were Communists.

State Department press officer
Lincoln White said the hearings would be closed to newsmen.
If the decision goes against her,
Mrs. Flynn, 71, may carry her appeal to the Board of Passport Appeals.

The present regulations were put into effect Jan. 2 after the Supreme Court upheld passport provisions of the Subversive Activities Control Act. The act forbids Communist party members from using a passport, applying for one or seeking renewal of a passport.

Woman to Trial for Murder

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—The trial of Mrs. Mary Lou Henson, 19-year-old housewife charged with murder in the death of her infant step-daughter, was scheduled to resume in Craighead Circuit court here today.

Two jurors were selected Tuesday in the opening day of the trial.

Mrs. Henson is charged with second degree murder in the New Years Eve, 1960, death of the 19-month-old girl, Christine. Her first trial, in January, ended in a deadlocked jury.

Mrs. Henson maintains the child fell from a chair and down a flight of stairs. The state contends the girl died of a ruptured liver caused by blows inflicted by the defendant.

them loose with large herds of Black Angus.

Eventually, Stephens said, the buffalo will interbreed with the cattle and produce what he terms
"catteboes."

His father, A. J. Stephens, says the meal from such hybrid ani-

Central Arkansas.

He says he plans to buy four black bears for the farm, to put on

$100,000 Camden Bonds Okayed

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—A $100,000 bond issue to pay the city's share in the cost of an expressway, was approved by a vote of six to one here Tuesday.

Unofficial returns showed 1,348 votes for the one-mill issue and 236 against.

The funds will be used to pay only the city's portion of the cost of the expressway, which will link U.S. Highway 79 and state Highway 7 south of the city.
The state Highway Department will build the road.

DOROTHY DIX

One's a She-Devil,
the Other An Angel

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I don't think it fair to put all the blame on mothers-in-law. And you wouldn't either, if you knew the lengths to which our lives miserable.

Until she married him, he was a fine boy: loyal, ambitious, a hard worker and devoted churchgoer. It was he who did the extra chores around home, always had a smile for everyone and saw the sunny side of life no matter what. Because he could do no wrong in our eyes, we thought the girl he picked for a wife, just fine.

And so she was, before she hooked him; she went to church with him every Sunday, carried her Bible, brought us little presents and was sugar sweet to even our most difficult relatives.

We were certainly taken in! She hasn't put foot in church more than half a dozen times since her marriage. That Bible was a stage prop. She lolls around the house all day in a messy morning robe reading trash. What work gets done, like cleaning, washing dishes and all our boy does. And when we drop in for a visit she won't even poke her tousled head out to say, "Hello."

The rest of the family gets the same treatment. But none of us take notice, so she can't call us meddlers. My other daughter-in-law is just the opposite. We get along fine. One is a she-devil, the other an angel. So, you see, there are two sides to every question—Mistreated Mother-in-Law.

Dear mistreated: Mothers-in-law have a natural tendency to keep on being a mother to their sons and daughters and this often leads them into intervening in their children's affairs. That's why mothers-in-law are frequently criticized. While this may not be true in your case, you must realize that the careless wife is your son's problem, not yours. Love both your sons, cultivate the angel and let her husband work.

They have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shiver.

Mrs. Kenneth Leslie and children of Woodville, Tex. are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tarpley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones and son are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bridges and will go home to Dimmit, Tex. accompanied by their daughter who has spent the past month with her grandparents.

Mrs. Charles Routon and daughter, Ann of Baton Rouge, La. were weekend visitors of Mrs. C. F. Routon. Ann returned to Ouachita Baptist College, her mother will visit here this week.

Duplicate Bridge Club
The Hope Duplicate Bridge Club had four tables of players at its weekly meeting Monday night, April 23 at the Diamond. Winning couples were: Mrs. Harry Hawthorne and Mrs. Marie Hendrix; First: Jimmy Jones Jr. and Al Graves Jr.; second: Mrs. R. L. Broach and Mrs. R. T. White; third.

out life his own way with the she-devil.

Dear Helen: I've been a wild girl; done all the things I should not do and carried on a one girl war against my parents and teachers. The only person who never lost faith in me was a boy who left here two years ago to live with his grandmother in another town. Now he's back and wants me to marry him. Loving him so much, I regret all the bad I ever did. He still doesn't know the worst. I'm afraid he'll find out if I don't tell him. Should I?

—Mixed up
Dear Mixed Up: Never explain, never complain. What's past is past. But, make sure the boy loves the girl you are and not the one you were. In other words, get re-acquainted before you say yes.

Granted it's a risk but the risk of future unhappiness will be greater unless he sees you as you are. Don't forget, he is two years older than when you last met.

BANKING ON DEATH

By EMMA LATHEN

Chapter 3

Michael capitulated. Deciding that Thatcher was trustworthy he said, in a heavy confiding tone, "Can't deny that losing Schneider is a blow. We sent Roy here right from Montreal to New York to talk to those people. We're all going to have to do a lot of hard thinking about our plans."

"You're right, Stan," Roy started. "We're really . . ."

"Well!" The word was like an explosion. Jeannie Novak, who again stood up, trembling with rage. "I like that. You'll make decisions, will you? And you'll sit down with Stan and decide what we're going to do, will you?" She drew a deep breath, sat down, then answered her own questions. "From now on, Roy Novak, you're not running the show, or dering me around. From now on, you're going to pay a little more attention to what I want."

"We'll talk about all of this later," her husband said colorfully. "We have a lot of things to talk about."

John Thatcher could almost feel Jeannie Novak's contempt for her husband. His clerkish superiority, his cold, authoritative voice, his stood rooted. He might have been unendurable to her at any time. Now, however, it flicked her into a sort of frenzy.

"We have a lot of things to talk about, do we? Well, you old lady, don't think that you can take that tone of voice with me. Ever again." She gave a grim smile. Roy cut in coldly, "I don't know what you're talking about, but this isn't the time to bring out . . ."

"You don't know what I'm talking about," she crowed. "Oh, no, you don't. You lousy, two-bit . . . murderer!"

She confronted her husband and father who stared at her in undisguised horror. John Thatcher stood rooted. He might have been a piece of office equipment for all the attention she paid to him as she swept on.

"I know it, do you hear me, I know it. I've got the proof that you did it, you lousy killer. You didn't know that you left proof, did you? Well, you did. No, you were flying straight to Montreal, weren't you? Well, I happen to know that you stopped by Bob's apartment. And I can prove it. Do you hear me, I can prove it. So don't you take that smug tone with me." She stopped, white-faced and trembling.

Her father recovered himself. "Jeannie, you should be ashamed. Roy's been a good husband to you . . ."

"Good husband!" she mimicked contemptuously. He came around the desk and put his great, work-scared hands on her shoulders and shook her roughly. "Don't be foolish. The police have cleared him. They know he was in Montreal. He didn't kill . . ."

India Appeals for Nuclear Testing Ban

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indian Prime Minister Nehru today appealed to the United States and the Soviet Union not to resume nuclear testing, at least until the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva ends.

In a statement to Parliament, Nehru said if the United States resumes atmospheric tests, the Soviet Union will do the same and there will be no end.

Nehru warned that such tests at this stage would not only lessen chances of agreement at Geneva, but would also increase the possibility of actual war.

In London, thousands of ban-the-bomb marchers massed in front of the U.S. Embassy Monday night and held a 10-minute silent prayer.

The group gathered in prayer after a mass rally in Hyde Park climaxing their annual Easter peace march to London from Britain's nuclear weapons arsenal at Aldermaston, 50 miles southwest of the capital.

Canon John Collins of St. Paul's Cathedral, leader of the British campaign for nuclear disarmament, handed an embassy staff member a letter appealing to President Kennedy to abandon his test plan and give "a ray of hope to the world."

Collins then drove to the Soviet Embassy and handed in a letter addressed to Premier Khrush-

Gentry Plans to Run for Justice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former

Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry said today he would make a political announcement in the secretary of state's office Wednesday, and it was reported that he would file for an Arkansas Supreme Court post.

Gentry, 47, was attorney general from 1953-57 and has been in private practice since then.

Reports said he would oppose any urging him to withdraw his threat to stage more tests if the Americans do.

In a third letter handed in at Admiralty House, Collins urged Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to try to dissuade Kennedy from resuming tests.

Authorities in Tokyo, fearing another fallout scare, ordered daily radiation checks on fish brought back by Japanese boats from the U.S. test area about 2,000 miles southeast of Japan.

Morrilton Okays $900,000 in Bonds

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Mor-

ilton voters decide today on two bond issues totaling $900,000 which would help finance facilities here for Arkansas Valley Industries, a Dardanelle poultry firm.

The money would be part of a $1.1 million outlay for a feed mill, hatchery and poultry processing plant to employ 500 people.

One of the two bond issues carries a three mill tax which would be levied only if the company defaulted in rent payments, which are expected to repay the issue.

One bond issue is for $354,000 under Amendment 49, and the other is for $546,000 under Act 9 of 1959. Under it, the bondholder is completely responsible for the bonds.

The Lions Club was holding a downtown chicken fry in an attempt to get out the vote today.

"HIS HOME ON FIRE — 2000 MILES AWAY..."
Good neighbors make good people to do business with. Take this case—a husband 2000 miles away on a business trip when fire damaged his home. Yet thanks to his fire insurance agent, a good neighbor, his insurance program was in good order and everything taken care of. Damage inspected, report made to the insurance company, temporary repairs taken care of and an appointment arranged with an adjuster upon his return.
This is the personal, friendly service you get from an independent Capital Stock company agent. My business is protecting you. I'm right in your neighborhood so it's easy for you to reach me when you want advice or help.

Narrow-minded and ignorant persons talk about persons and not things; hence gossip is the band and disgrace of so large a portion of society. As to people saying a few idle words about us, we must not mind that any more than the old church steeple minds the rooks cawing about it—Eliot.

Calendar of Events

A repeat performance of the "Sabbath Convention," under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Scott, will be presented at the BeBe Memorial CME Church Friday night April 27 at 7:30.

Pirates Win; Dodgers Hurler Strikes Out 18

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of these days Sandy Koufax will strike out 20 batters in a nine-inning game and people may recognize that the Los Angeles Dodgers southpaw is the greatest strikeout pitcher of modern times.

For the second time in his comparatively brief major league career, Koufax equalled the major league strikeout mark when he fanned 18 Chicago players Tuesday as the Dodgers routed the Cubs 10-2.

That gave the 26-year-old Brooklyn native a career total of 992 strikeouts in 990 innings an average of better than one strikeout per inning.

No other pitcher in the history of baseball averaged a strikeout an inning. Not even Walter Johnson, the all-time whiff king of the majors, or such other strikeout artists as Bobby Fier, Rube Waddell, Lefty Grove and Christy Mathewson did it.

Pittsburgh won its 11th game in 12 starts, defeating San Francisco 7-3, the same score by which Cincinnati downed the New York Mets. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 2-1 and Houston defeated St. Louis 4-3.

In the American League Cleveland edged the Los Angeles Angels 3-2. Chicago's White Sox defeated Kansas City 1-0, Baltimore nipped Minnesota 5-4 and Boston defeated Washington 4-1.

Tommy Davis and Duke Snider drove in seven runs between them as the Dodgers cubbed loser Don Cardwell and three relief pitchers for 12 hits. Davis drove in four runs with a home run and single, Snider batted in three with a home run and a triple.

Koufax, fanning eight of the first nine batters he faced, finished with a flourish, striking out the side in the ninth for his third victory in four decisions.

Sandy's 18 strikeouts matched the record set by Cleveland's Bob Feller against Detroit on Oct. 2, 1936 and later equaled by Koufax against San Francisco on Aug. 31, 1959. This is a National League record.

League daytime strikeout record since Koufax' 1959 effort was achieved at night. Fier accomplished his feat in an afternoon game.

The league leading Pirates put five of their seven hits together for a five-run fourth inning against loser Juan Marichae as A. McBean registered his second triumph. He needed ninth-inning help from Elroy Face, Catcher Don Leppert homered for the Reds.

The Reds scored four runs in the first against New York starter Craig Anderson and went on to inflict the 10th defeat on the Mets, who have won only one game. Cincinnati rookie Sam Ellis allowed only one hit but was replaced by Moe Drabowsky in the sixth after walking his 10th and 11th batters. Wally Post hit two doubles and a home run, Vada Pinson also homered and Eddie Kasko had three hits for the Reds.

Warren Spahn scattered nine Philadelphia hits and doubled home the Braves' first run. Eddie Mathews' fifth home run accounted for what proved to be the winning run. Three straight hits after two out in the ninth ruined Spahn's bid for his 56th lifetime shutout but he tossed out the final Philly batter himself to preserve his second victory of the season and 31th of his major league career.

Southpaw Hal Woodeshick pitched a six-hitter for Houston against St. Louis and ex-Cardinal outfielder Don Taussig homered in the sixth, off loser Larry Jackson, for the clincher.

Boog Powell's bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth drove in two runs and capped a four-run rally that gave the Orioles and Milt Pappas (2-0) their win over the Twins after Jack Kralick had checked Baltimore on one run and four hits for eight innings. Joe Bonkowski (1-1), working in relief of Kralick, took the loss. It was Pappas' first route-going performance since a March 12 appendectomy. He allowed eight hits.

Moss (2-1) beat rookie Dan Pfister, making his first major league start for the A's, in a stirring pitchers' duel. Going into the eighth Pfister had the Tigers blanked on one hit, but Jake Wood's double and a single by Rocky Colavito brought in the only run of the game. Pfister (6-1) wound up with a three-hitter.

Floyd Robinson's two-run homer in the eighth inning off Ralph Terry (3-1) got the job done for the White Sox after Joe Cunningham's single had driven in the tying run against the Yankees. The victory went to John Buzhardt (2-1), who gave up a homer to John Blanchard in the second and needed relief help from Frank Baumann and Turk Lown to wrap it up.

Pete Runnels, who hit only three homers last year, hit a pair with the bases empty to support Galen Cisco's four-hit pitching for the Red Sox. Runnels' shot in the eighth inning off Joe McClain (0-2) snapped a 1-1 tie and gave Cisco (2-0) the run he needed to send the Senators to their seventh consecutive defeat.

Indians and Orioles Win, Yanks Lose

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ty Cline, Cleveland's 22-year-old rookie center fielder, has shaken his slump and lifted the pressure imposed by a can't miss label and a tendency in the teepee to spell that last name C-o-b-b.

Using Chavez Ravine as the site for his war dance, Cline crashed three extra-base hits in a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Tuesday night that kept the Indians in first place in the American League with their sixth consecutive victory.

The much-publicized speed merchant scored the Indians' first run after doubling, drove in the second with another two-base blow, then rapped a triple in the seventh inning to knock in pitcher Ron Taylor with the winning run.

It was quite a one-man show for the left-handed swinging Cline, trying to live up to a host of press clippings after only two seasons in organized ball. His credentials include a .311 batting average at Mobile in 1960 and a .290 mark at Salt Lake City last season.
